Director's Notes

I knew that this show was going to be challenging one! Despite being a "junior" version of the Broadway production, from the many scene changes to the TONS of dialogue, I think the campers would agree that this has been a fun, yet labor-intensive three weeks.

Our biggest challenge, in my opinion, is convincing actors that it is ok to be expressive on stage, even when your character isn't in the spotlight. The leading roles can look fabulous, move gracefully, and be Oscar-winning material, but if the rest of the cast sits like bumps on logs and fails to react, the scene is BORING!

Having said all that, I am pleased with the progress that the campers made. I believe that the moral of the story is that acting is a full time job when you are on stage. You can't take a break in the middle of a scene, but have to be fully engaged to keep the energy up on stage.

Thanks for another wonderful summer of camp. I think I can speak for the whole OCPA staff when I say that it is both exciting and a privilege to watch your children mature right before our eyes. In my opinion, there is nothing more important than expressing oneself in a positive way while collaborating with others to create something beautiful.

Bravo Cast!

Yours,

Mr. Broccoli

Our Mission

The mission of the Oregon Conservatory of Performing Arts is to keep the performing arts alive and within reach of everyone in our community.

Our Values

We believe that all young people should have the opportunity to experience the theatre arts — that a complete education involves knowledge of the arts and participation in them. We teach the process of theatre, helping kids develop self-esteem and communication skills through creativity and teamwork.
